

Miryana Nesic

- Mediator and ADR consultant.
- Background in banking/finance disputes. Worked with Allen & Overy, followed by the Barclays Banking Group, before joining the ADR practice at Hammonds.
- Involvement in ADR projects since the early 1990s, spanning the UK, Europe, the US, South Africa, India, Japan and Australia, with a special interest and expertise in designing dispute resolution systems, including court-annexed and corporate mediation schemes and procedures.
- Works in post-conflict regimes with judges and governments to introduce legal and court reforms, including ADR.
- Has assisted the Law Society to set up its Civil/Commercial Mediation Panel. Works on developing professional standards and competency criteria for a range of professional bodies.
- Facilitator on ADR for a series of EU-sponsored programmes throughout the Middle East; and was the adviser on ADR issues in e-commerce for a British Council-sponsored programme in China.
- CEDR mediator and Faculty member.
- NLS Visiting Professor of ADR, NLS Faculty and Adjunct Professor at the Bond Dispute Resolution Centre in Australia.
- Co-author of "Mediation: Principles Process Practice", published by Butterworths.
- Has trained lawyers, judges, other professionals, corporate representatives and government officials throughout Europe on dispute resolution techniques.
- Has mediated a range of civil/commercial disputes.
- Has spoken widely on ADR at conferences in the UK and abroad.